PRODUCT CARE, GUARANTEE & REPLACEMENT POLICY

Doors and accessories from the Infinity and range in the NEY Door Collection carry a guarantee of 5 years from date of invoice, against defects in materials only.

Doors should be cleaned using a damp cloth using a very mild solution of water and household detergent (non-abrasive) with a minimum amount of moisture. No water should be left on the surface for any length of time and should be dried using a soft, clean cloth.

NEY will not accept any liability for damage caused by excessive use of detergents or cleaning materials containing solvents. To prevent heat damage we advise the following precautions :-

- i. Extractors are always used above working hobs.
- ii. Heat deflectors should be fitted around Built-in/under ovens and ranges to minimise heat emissions.
- iii. Not positioning kettles, toasters etc. in locations where the heat or steam they omit will over a period of time damage wrapped products.

If storing product for any period of time we recommend you do so flat in a dry environment. NEY cannot be held responsible if product is stored or installed in a newly plastered or damp environment.

Where a product is damaged or sub-standard when receiving delivery, it is the Buyers responsibility to sign the delivery documents as damaged. If damaged goods are received, in order to speed the replacement process.

The sales office require photographic evidence of the damage along with a list of items and a copy of the delivery document which states the damage within 24h. Chargeable replacements will be ordered and manufactured and a request will be sent to the Area Sales Representative to arrange collection and credit of the faulty product.

Any faulty doors should not be used, i.e. drilled or fitted, without prior agreement with NEY Ltd.

If product has already been installed it is reasonable to assume that they met with the Buyers quality standards before installation. We cannot be held responsible for faults if not informed prior to installation.

Please note that in the event of a proven manufacturing defect, NEY's liability will not exceed the value of the defective product and accept no liability for any consequential loss, loss of profits, third party claims or refitting charges.

HANDLING AND STORAGE INSTRUCTIONS:

Our doors are heavy and can be damaged if they are not handled carefully.

Do not drag doors or slide them across one another, as this can result in chipping damage or scratching. Handling damage is not considered a factory defect.

Doors must be stored in a dry, well ventilated area in an enclosed building.

Do not deliver doors to the job site until concrete floors, foundations and plastering is completed and fully dry. Never store doors outside, exposed to the elements.

Do not subject doors to extremes of heat, dryness or humidity.

Temperature should not exceed 40° C.

Doors should be stored flat on a level surface in a dry, ventilated area to prevent bowing.

It is very important to support the centre of the doors to prevent them from sagging in the middle.

Do not lean doors against the wall.
